INTRODUCING... CORPORATE MAGIC, LTD

Can you hear the applause? It's all for you because you've made the right choice for hiring corporate entertainment. Jan Rose and Danny Orleans are two Chicago area entertainers who have been performing at meetings, receptions, trade shows and awards events for over 20 years. During that time, they've become experts in interactive entertainment. They can help you find the right entertainer for your event — one that will meet your budget and exceed your expectations.

Danny Orleans and Jan Rose assist their clients in selecting entertainers to add humor, intrigue, fun and interactivity for corporate receptions, trade shows, meetings and special events.

For the past 15 years they've organized on-board caricaturists for lake cruises; strolling sleight-of-hand artists for banking receptions; and fortune-tellers for the Fortune 500. For corporate family days, they've booked comedy magicians, face-painters and balloon twisters. For annual meetings and award banquets they've recommended comedians, juggling teams, a rock star impersonator, mind readers and even a light-bulb eater. And for trade show booths, there are acts that attract huge crowds.

Interactive entertainment creates excitement, encourages audience involvement, and makes a powerful impact. Corporate Magic will help you make the memories of your event everlasting.

DANNY ORLEANS: INTIMATE MAGIC

A diamond ring vanishes from a lady's hand and reappears hooked to the magician's keychain. A wad of one dollar bills magically transforms into hundreds. And playing cards? They seem to take on a life of their own. It's intimate magic — close-up and impossible! When Danny Orleans circulates among your guests, he'll astound small groups with his miniature illusions. Magic is the ultimate ice-breaker. It enchants, captivates and creates an atmosphere which is sure-to-be remembered.

CAROL ROBB: HANDWRITING ANALYSIS

What does it mean when you forget to cross your 't' or dot your 'i'? Carol knows, and she will tell you how your personality is reflected in the loops, curves and slant of your handwriting. Crowds gather around her table, gasping in amazement as they enjoy the uncanny accuracy that this "graphologist" possesses. She interprets your guests' autographs, spending about two minutes with each of them. She's funny, witty and startlingly on target. Perhaps that's why Fortune 500 companies request her presence at more than 100 events every year.

Carol Robb (far left) explains, "Look how closely your letters are spaced! You aren't afraid to get close with someone— even if you just met him!"

CARICATURIST

Looking for an event interactive that's not only the talk of the party, but also becomes a souvenir? Caricatures are the answer. In as little as 2 minutes, the artist can complete a personalized cartoon image for each guest that poses.

Angel the Caricaturist completes another "work of art."

Hobbies, personality quirks and accessories can all be worked into the "tooned portrait." The souvenir sketch will forever remind your guests of the wonderful time they had at your event. Having a big event? We can arrange for a team of artists to "caricaturize" all your guests!

MIME

A tuxedoed mime on roller skates? Outrageous? You bet! Perhaps that's why Carleton the Mime has been entertaining at special events across the country for decades, capturing the hearts of Corporate America with his silent antics. Combining the methods of classic mime with the excitement of street theater, Carleton's interactions break the ice and serve as a springboard for people to get to know each other.

He greets your guests as an ever-still statue, making your guests wonder, "Is he alive or is it a mannequin?" Then, with feather in hand, and silent magic and guessing games in his pockets he'll keep your guests in stitches all evening.

Carleton, the roller skating mime can be your silent ambassador and entertainer for any event!

MINDMAGIC AFTER DINNER SHOW

Can Jan Rose read minds? That's the question everyone will be asking after they've witnessed the show filled with audience interaction, humor and mystery. Can she correctly identify the serial number on a dollar bill that a man has taken from his pocket? Or identify the name of a child in a photograph? You bet! And when she tells everyone the name of a jungle animal that an audience member wants to be, the mystery becomes hilarious! Corporate audiences across America have enjoyed the thought-provoking mysteries of Jan Rose and Danny Orleans. Think of them for your next event. They're already thinking of you!

Jan Rose reads the minds of 3 pharmaceutical researchers she determines the truth-tellers from the liars.

CAN YOU BE HYPNOTIZED?

Dan Lornitis doesn't need to swing a watch on a chain to hypnotize people. He puts anyone, from a college student to a corporate executive, under his spell in less than 30 seconds! And that's just the beginning of his Hypno-Show. His power of hypnotic influence wows corporate audiences as volunteers sleep at the snap of his fingers, temporarily forget how to count, and speak languages that they've never learned. Performing at hundreds of colleges and corporate events every year, Dan Lornitis is an after-dinner act that your company will remember for years to come.

MODERN DAY VAUDEVILLIAN

David Kovac is a modern-day vaudevillian. He performs random acts of magic, preserves the orbits of objects in space (or more simply put: "juggling"), and banters nonsensical intellectualisms — all in a stand-up act which has been featured throughout Chicago. He was a featured act at the opening celebration of Millennium Park and the emcee for the U.S. Conference of Mayors. You can see him magically find a playing card with his necktie at Chicago's Green Mill or Second City Theater. He's been the featured performer at Hollywood's Magic Castle. David admits his repartee is meaningless, but that's what makes it all so much fun!

David Kovac: juggler, magician, comedian and purveyor of nonsensical intellect will make your brain smile.

AC ROCK

Four guys, great singing and no musical instruments? That's what makes Ac·Rock so amazing. "Ac" (short for a capella) means when your guests are entertained, they'll hear melody and sound effects created only by the vocal chords of this fabulous foursome.

Audiences at corporate meetings, celebrations and banquets are enthralled with this talented quartet. They can even customize songs to fit your particular theme or highlight a member of your company. Not only does he chow down a light bulb like a side salad, but he walks barefoot on broken glass, and survives the jaws of an animal trap snapping shut on his fingers. Unique branding, an enhanced profile and a memorable message they'll remember.

How does he do it? By stimulating their imagination with memorable visuals and humorous dialogue, show attendees relax and learn about your company. ## JOHN PARK, TRADE SHOW JUGGLER

What happens at your trade show booth when John Park juggles three clubs while riding a unicycle? Crowds, crowds, crowds! John's unique skill is capturing the attention of passers-by and then delivering your sales message while the objects are flying through the air. Even the audience gets into the act as everyone learns about your company's products and services.

CARICATURES DRAW A CROWD

It's the ultimate trade show giveaway: A caricature of a prospect with your company's logo imprinted on it. Prospects will line up at a chance to get a free "toon" of themselves. That gives your sales force a perfect opportunity to engage them, qualify them and sell them. Then the prospect wears their caricature (and your advertising) is a clear badge holder around their neck.

At trade shows, a busy booth is an active booth. Create traffic with Corporate Magic Caricaturists and you'll really "draw a crowd."

Angie or Doug, digital trade show caricaturists will draw more than 50 sketches a day at your booth.
