

THE MAGIC OF THE HOLIDAYS

When Santa makes an appearance, the eyes of children twinkle, especially when the jolly old elf is played by Chicago children's theatre actor, Derek Evans. Whether he's strolling through your event handing candy canes to your guests, or in the traditional throne meeting with children individually, his presence brings a sparkle of magic to any holiday party, promotion or special event.

Derek Evans as Santa Claus

THE ULTIMATE KRIS KRINGLE

This Santa can do it all. He'll read Christmas lists from children, give advice on "how to be good," explain how reindeer fly and even reveal how he can fit down all those chimneys without getting his suit dirty. Derek Evans is the expert Kris Kringle. His first rate costume, snowy beard and spectacles will make kids — and even grownups wonder; "Maybe there is such thing as Santa Claus!"

Santa looks over a young boy's list asking him, "Have you been good this year?"

A Chicago children's theatre actor, Derek Evans has performed at thousands of schools nationwide, impersonating and teaching them about American President Teddy Roosevelt. During the holiday season, Roosevelt's 3-piece suit is replaced by a Santa suit as he transforms into The Jolly Old Elf at shopping malls, holiday parties and annual celebrations.
