

RENAISSANCE MAN OF MAGIC

John Railing may be the last “Renaissance Man” in America. Former attorney, options trader, bibliophile and expert on movable advertising inserts and pop-up books, Mr. Railing has, throughout his life, maintained his teenage interest in magic to become one of the leading corporate magicians in the country.

MAGIC FOR EXECUTIVES & DIGNITARIES

Based in Chicago, he performs regularly for an impressive roster of celebrities, entertainers, leading corporate executives and dignitaries. He was flown to London to entertain at Sir Georg Solti’s 75th birthday; he was selected by Sara Lee CEO, John Bryan, to accompany their best customers to Africa where he joined them on safari. President Gerald Ford calls on John Railing time and time again to entertain guests at his homes in Aspen and Boca Raton to entertain guests including Colin Powell and Dr. Henry Kissinger.

YOU WON’T BELIEVE YOUR EYES

John Railing, The CEO’s Magician

John’s specialty is sleight-of-hand magic, performed under your nose and right before your very eyes. Give him a penny, he’ll make it grow as big as your palm. Better yet, give him a dollar bill and he’ll transform it into a hundred. Pick a card — in a flash it’ll appear in his wallet. Pick a word out of a book, and he’ll magically guess it — every single time!

If you’re looking for a sophisticated entertainer for a sophisticated evening of spontaneous entertainment, magician John Railing is the man who will make it an evening to remember.
