

VICTORIA PALM READER

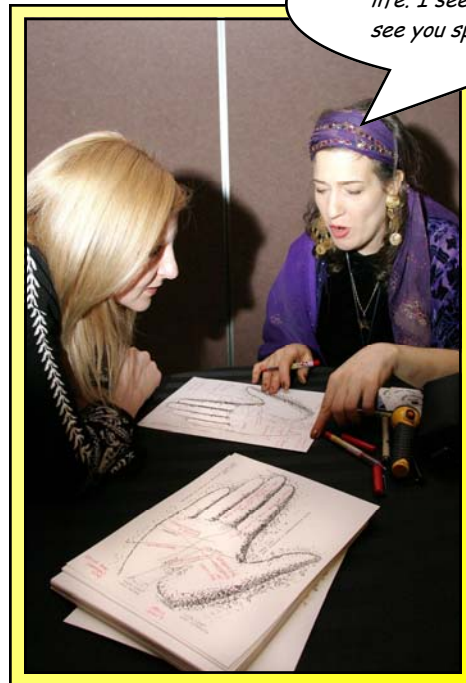

JUST GIVE HER A HAND

Eccentric, wild, and with a zany touch of the cosmos, Victoria will entertain your guests as she interprets the lines on their palms. Her costumes are as outrageous as her personality. She works one-on-one with your guests, examining their life line, head line and heart line. In the five minute "session," each sitter will learn about their intellectual pursuits, chances for wealth, future romance and opportunity for travel. Are you wondering, "Is this for real?" Give Victoria your hand and five minutes of your time and you be the judge!

Palm Reader Victoria Martin believes that the lines on your hand are a reflection of your personality and a window to your future.

Your lifeline indicates a long, rich life. I see money. Lots of money. I see you spending lots of money...

Victoria takes notes on an oversized palm imprint which becomes a personalized take-home souvenir for your guests.

THE BOTTOM LINE

Victoria was the in-house psychic reader at Lettuce Entertain You Restaurants and currently is the astrological columnist for Bloomberg Business News. She's been the subject of numerous newspaper and magazine articles and has been reading the fortunes of the Fortune 500 for over 25 years in the Chicago area. Currently a staple of the Greek Town restaurant scene (where she reads coffee grounds), she appears at more than 150 events annually.

Victoria hopes that you find your time with her to be fun. But you and your guests may leave believing that your handprint reveals a lot more to those who know how to interpret it.
