

THE APPEARING VIP

MAKE YOUR VIP APPEAR...BY MAGIC

Looking to put a big impact into the opening moments of your next meeting? Corporate Magic has the solution. We can make your CEO, Sales Vice-President, or any VIP magically appear – at a moment when your staff least expects it.

Corporate Magician Danny Orleans shows his audience just where assistant Genevieve is hiding before she sneaks into the yellow box.

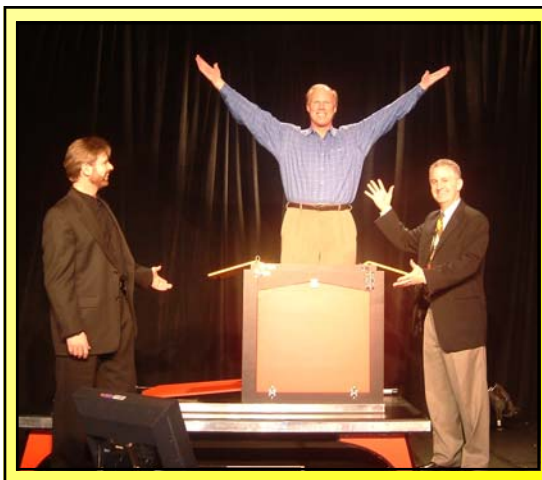

THE MAGIC BEHIND YOUR BUSINESS

“The key to a magician’s success is just like any business. It’s what goes on behind the scenes that counts,” states Corporate Magician Danny Orleans as he introduces a large illusion being rolled out onto the stage. But Danny gives the audience a “behind the scenes view” – showing them just where his assistant hides before she sneaks into the yellow box.

PREPARATION IS THE KEY

Emphasizing practice and preparation, Danny illustrates the power of working together as he lifts the yellow box (with assistant inside) and lowers it into the red box. That’s all there is to it, claims magician Orleans. “The rest is just showmanship!” At that moment, he claps his hands, but instead of his lovely female assistant reappearing, to everyone’s surprise, your VIP pops out of the box!

Chris Killingstad, CFO of the Tennant Companies, magically appears at the National Sales Meeting in Orlando.

PERFECT TRICK

Why is this the perfect illusion to include in your program? The VIP needs less than 15 minutes of rehearsal time. They are completely safe and comfortable. At the big finish, all they have to do is stand up and take their bow. They instantly become the star of the show and the audience is primed for their presentation.

If you’re looking to make a big impact; If you want to create an impression that your company will remember; include Danny Orleans’ “Magic Behind your Business” at your next annual meeting or special event.
